field-tested brain for free

It's always nice to have a little temporary help. Except when the temps are very little help, and your precious time goes into helping them to be productive. Here's a more intelligent solution. Call BOSS Temps, where each and every temp passes a strenuous series of proficiency tests, or never passes through your door. See...you already like the way we think.

every 12 minutes in philadelphia,
a creative professional gets pregnant, falls ill, changes jobs or gets hit by a bus

that poor woman!

Hey, it's a joke. But you get the point. Things happen, and when they happen to one of your creative or production professionals, you had better have Plan B ready. So call and we'll send a folder and business cards. Then you'll know exactly where to turn when your favorite layout artist hits the next bus out of town. Or, you know, vice versa.
